If you are using a paper napkin, start from row three below.

With your square napkin fully opened out, fold the fabric in half, creating a fold edge as indicated by the dashed line.

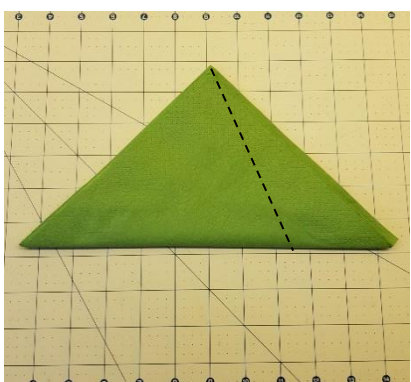

Fold the material in half once more as indicated by the black dashed line.

Position the folded napkin so that the corner where all four layers are free, are directly in front of you, as indicated by the arrow.

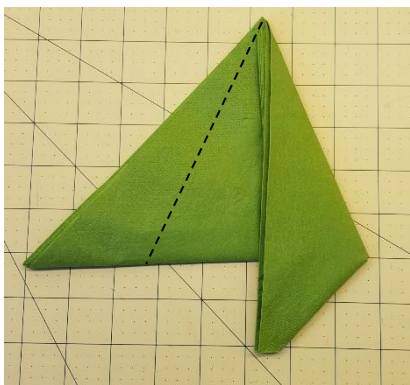

Fold the material in half as indicated by the black dashed line.

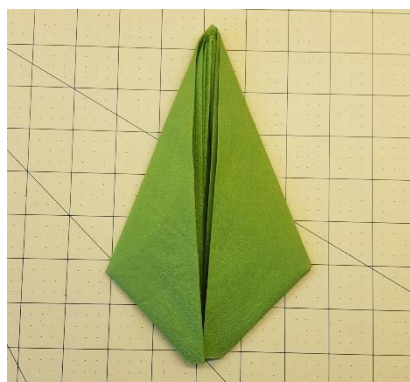

IMPORTANT ... The four loose layers of napkin should now be on top of the fold.

Create a fold along the dashed line, so that the right-hand edge is positioned vertically as shown in the next photo.

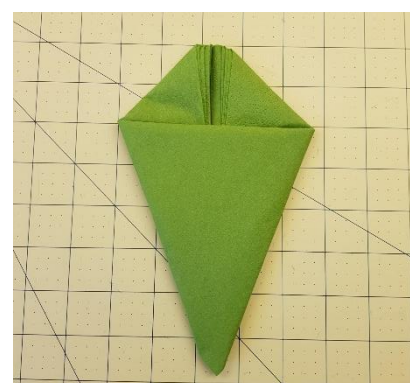

Repeat this process to the other side, creating a fold along the black dashed line.

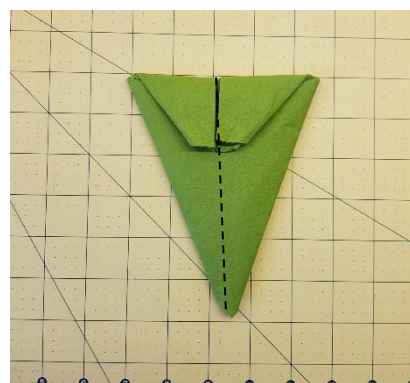

Do not worry if the central edges do not quite meet along the entire length.

Turn the shape over.

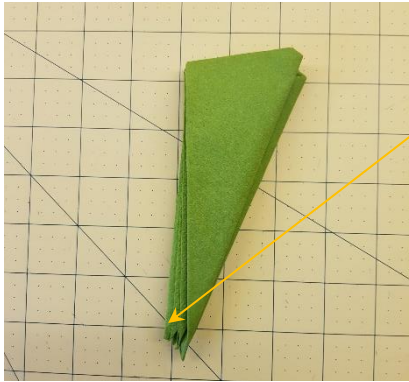

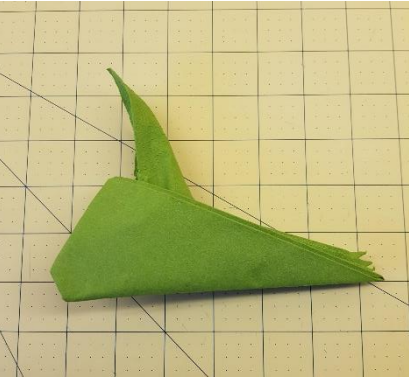

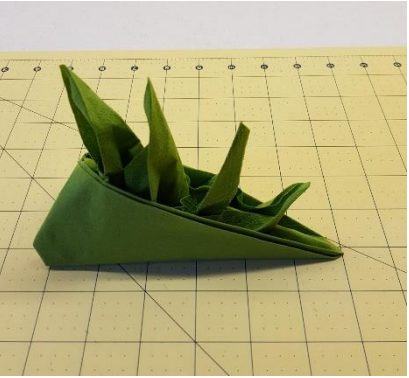

Fold the little flaps down as shown in the next photo.

Fold in half as indicated by the black dashed line.

	At this point the main shape is complete. There are four layers of napkin at this point. Gently pull the top layer out of the extreme point of the main shape and back towards the opposite end of the shape.
	Repeat this process with the three remaining layers, drawing the points to a position in front of the previous one.
	Flatten the project to help form additional creases that will keep the points in the desired position. Project complete. ☺
